What is RAD?

The Rental Assistance Demonstration (RAD) is a program of the Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) that seeks to preserve affordable housing.

Public housing units across the country need more than $26 billion in repairs and many public housing agencies (PHAs) do not have enough money to keep units in good condition. RAD provides PHAs a way to rehabilitate, or repair, units without depending on additional money from the government.

How Does RAD Work?

RAD allows PHAs to convert a public housing property’s HUD funding to either:
- Section 8 project-based voucher (PBV); or
- Section 8 project-based rental assistance (PBRA).

This conversion of funding to Section 8 contracts lets PHAs borrow money to make needed repairs.

Only 185,000 public housing units can convert funding through RAD. PHAs must submit applications to HUD in order to get approval to convert some or all of their public housing funding to PBV or PBRA contracts.

Will RAD Affect My Housing Assistance?

You will not lose your housing assistance because of RAD. Even though owners of a RAD property can use private money to make repairs, owners will still receive money from HUD and must follow HUD’s PBV and PBRA rules.

WILL RAD AFFECT MY RENT?

Since Section 8 programs also set rents at 30% of income like in public housing, most residents will not have rent increases because of RAD.

However, if you are paying a flat rent in public housing, you will most likely have to pay more in rent over time. In these cases, your new rent will be phased in over a few years, meaning that you will pay a little more each year.

How Can I Be Involved?

HUD encourages residents and their PHAs to work together during the RAD conversion process. Before PHAs can apply to participate in RAD, they must:
- Notify all residents at a property proposed for RAD conversion about their plans; and
- Conduct at least two meetings with residents.
FACT SHEET #1: RENTAL ASSISTANCE DEMONSTRATION (RAD) OVERVIEW

DEFINITIONS

• Housing Choice Voucher (HCV) – Rental vouchers that let people choose their own housing in the private rental market.
• Project-based Vouchers (PBV) – Rental vouchers that are attached to specific units in a building. The voucher stays with the unit even after a tenant moves out.
• Project-based Rental Assistance (PBRA) – A rental assistance contracts that is tied to units in a specific building.
• Rehabilitation – The repairs needed to restore a unit or property to good condition.

WILL I HAVE TO MOVE?

Most repairs made as part of RAD will allow you to stay in your home during construction. However, some apartments and buildings will require more work.

In these cases, you will be relocated and protected by RAD relocation rules. You will have the right to return to your development once construction is completed.

If construction at your property takes longer, the PHA may offer you other housing options, such as another public housing unit or a Housing Choice Voucher (HCV) that you can use to rent another affordable unit in the private market.

Whether you choose to move temporarily or to move permanently to other housing, the PHA will help you find the best possible option for you and pay for your moving expenses.

WILL RAD AFFECT MY RESIDENT RIGHTS & PARTICIPATION?

RAD keeps many of the resident processes and rights available under public housing, such as the ability to request a grievance process and the timelines for termination notification.

Residents will also have a right to organize and resident organizations will continue to receive resident participation funds, up to $25 per occupied unit ever year.

WILL I STILL BE ABLE TO PARTICIPATE IN FSS AND ROSS?

You will be able to continue participating in the Family Self-Sufficiency (FSS) program. If your property converts assistance to PBV, you will be moved from the public housing FSS program to the HCV FSS program. The rules in both programs are very similar.

If your property converts assistance to PBRA, you may continue your participation in FSS until your current contract of participation ends.

If you are currently participating in the Resident Opportunities and Self Sufficiency (ROSS) program, you can participate until all of the program funding is used.

CAN I CHOOSE WHERE I LIVE?

In addition to improved, better quality housing, you will have greater choice in where to live through the RAD choice mobility option. Once the RAD conversion is complete, you may request a Housing Choice Voucher (HCV).

Under the PBV program, you can request an HCV after living in a RAD property for one year; under the PBRA program, you may request an HCV after living in a RAD property for two years.

During these meetings, you can learn about the conversion plans, ask questions, express concerns, and provide comments. The PHA must submit your comments and its response to them in the RAD application.

The PHA must have at least one more meeting with all residents of the property before HUD approves the conversion. This is another chance for you to ask questions and provide comments.
