Rental Assistance Demonstration (RAD)

FACT SHEET #4: RESIDENT INVOLVEMENT

WHAT IS RAD?

The Rental Assistance Demonstration (RAD) is a program of the Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) that seeks to preserve affordable housing.

Public housing units across the country need more than $26 billion in repairs and many public housing agencies (PHAs) do not have enough money to keep units in good condition. RAD provides PHAs a way to repair units without depending on additional money from the government.

RAD allows PHAs to convert a public housing property’s HUD funding to either:

- Section 8 project-based voucher (PBV); or
- Section 8 project-based rental assistance (PBRA).

This conversion of funding type lets PHAs borrow money to make needed repairs.

HOW CAN I BE INVOLVED IN RAD?

Your PHA has to take several steps when it decides to participate in RAD.

First, your PHA will have to apply for RAD in order to get HUD’s permission to convert public housing properties to Section 8 properties. Before submitting an application to HUD, your PHA will let you know which properties are proposed for conversion and invite you to at least two meetings to discuss the conversion plans.

You will have time to submit feedback to your PHA. After your comments and questions are received, your PHA will need to provide written responses to them. Both your comments and the PHA’s written responses must be submitted to HUD as part of the RAD application.

If HUD approves your PHA’s RAD plans, your PHA will have to provide HUD with more documents, each with a specific deadline. Most of them are submitted to HUD within about a year.

WHAT ARE OTHER OPPORTUNITIES FOR ME TO BE INVOLVED?

Every PHA has an Annual or Five Year Plan, which provides details about the programs and services the PHA offers. A RAD conversion is considered a significant part of the PHA Plan or a Significant Amendment to the Plan. Any changes that happen at your property because of RAD will have to be included in your PHA’s Annual or Five Year Plan.

The new (amended) PHA Plan will have to be approved before the RAD conversion is completed. In addition to the general information required in the PHA Plan, your PHA must include the following information about its RAD plans:

- A description of the number units to be converted, including bedroom size, and who lives in the units (families, elderly, or those with disabilities);
- Any change in the number of units;
- Any change in the bedrooms per unit;
- Any change in policies about who can live in the units; and
- If any of the units at the property will be moved to another site.

Resident Advisory Board Involvement and Public Hearing

Your PHA must work with the Resident Advisory Board (RAB) whenever it makes changes to the PHA Plan, and provide the RAB with information on the RAD conversion. The RAB must have enough time to review the RAD plans and provide comments.

Your PHA must submit these comments to HUD. While your PHA is required to consider these comments, it is not required to agree with them. However, if the RAB feels that the PHA did not provide adequate notice and opportunity for comment, the Board may ask HUD to determine whether the PHA met these requirements.

In addition to working with the RAB, your PHA must have a public hearing to discuss the PHA Plan and invite the public to comment.

Your PHA may only submit the PHA Plan to HUD once it has:

- Consulted the Resident Advisory Board;
- Conducted the public hearing; and
- Considered all comments received.

After your PHA has completed and submitted all the required documents, and the RAD plans for your property have been approved by HUD, the PHA will receive a RAD Conversion Commitment (RCC). After receiving the RCC, the PHA must have another meeting with residents on the final RAD plans.

Resident Engagement in Lexington, KY

The Lexington Housing Authority (LHA) involved residents early and often in the RAD conversion process. LHA held all-resident meetings followed by smaller group meetings so that all residents could ask questions, speak with LHA staff about their concerns, and understand LHA’s RAD goals. Representatives from the Lexington Fair Housing Council, a local non-profit, attended all of the resident meetings. LHA also invited local officials to attend the meetings. Throughout the RAD process, LHA made it a priority to provide regular updates and make sure that residents had complete information to help residents plan and make good decisions for their families.

WHAT IF I NEED REASONABLE ACCOMMODATIONS TO PARTICIPATE?

Your PHA must make materials available in accessible formats for persons with disabilities, and must make meetings accessible for persons with disabilities.

Your PHA must also provide language assistance to persons that have trouble understanding English so that they can read materials, participate in meetings, and provide comments on the proposed RAD conversion. This may include providing translation of written materials and providing interpreters at meetings.
